TWENTIETH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

YEAR OF FAITH 2012-2013

Back to School

At the end of May, when school is dismissed for the summer, there is a welcomed and noticeable aura of peace and calm that descends upon the campus. You can feel it as you walk onto the property.

That feeling persists for a month or so. Then the feeling begins to change. The maintenance staff begins the process of summer cleaning and capital improvements that need to be done.

By the end of July, some of the teachers begin to surface and to get their classrooms ready for a new school year. By the first week of August, students and parents begin to hover around the campus to pick up student packets and to find out who the children's teachers are.

The week before school starts, the activity begins to reach a new crescendo as teachers arrive for in-service days and teachers meetings. Then finally the campus explodes with activity as the first day of school arrives.

While the summer vacation is nice and needed, it is great to have school back in session. It adds so much life to our parish. It is good to know that the education process is back in full swing, and along with our Religious Education program, our Catholic Faith continues to be passed on to our children.

As we begin this new school year this week, I ask that you keep our teachers, staff and students in your prayers. And I thank all of you for your financial support of our parish school.

Fr. Stretch
